Direct communication Improves findability and ranking.

November. 6, 2008 - Weesp, The Netherlands;

” Direct communication improves find ability and ranking.”

Create gripping Headlines and use the internet as the hart of your communication. These are the ingredients to be successful in getting more visitors to your website. Most companies are facing the problem on how to get their website on the first page of Google. To be successful, you need to start with a profound diagnose and evaluate the possibilities and strategy on how to get your website on the first page of Google with the highest possible return on investment. Once ranked on the first page of a Search Engine, you will get potential clients for free, secondly when your presence on this page is secured, a long-term performance can be guaranteed.

Walter Preij, Director of ClickLinQ agrees, " Buyers, not sellers, control all transactions. That's a sweeping generalization, but let's sweep together: Your prospects feel entitled to do their own research, given that they believe they have the information resources to find you (and, of course, find your competitors). Since a brand's first duty is visibility, it's essential that every organization with competitors (let's spell that out: You) must engage in findability engineering to get better ranking. Your future depends on it.”

Walter Preij notes, " So, here's the key question: how findable are you?” How much are you spending to find customers, versus how much are you spending to have them find you? Get out of your mud hut, with our help. Ask to see our proprietary techniques and tools; we'll help you analyze and quantify your findability, compare the results versus your competitors, then show you how to acquire customers the 21st century way.
